Benjamin Ingrosso, Good Lovin’

Can’t focus I’m numb
You’re here, now you’re gone haven’t slept for days

Deleted your name yeah right off my phone and I blocked your number but when I’m alone

It’s harder to handle when you’re frozen in my blood and my veins

The memory is painful
but late at night

Baby
every time I try to forget I’m alone I’m impersonating someone else and Maybe
I die a little knowing you’re not by yourself

But then I remember
I remember that good good lovin
that good lovin

You give me that good good lovin
I need to feel it once again

I saw you he’s touching your body like I used to do

You know I’ve been bleeding ever since we hit the wall

You saw me messing with some girl pretending it was you but how did we get so far from what we were

The memory is painful
but late at night

Baby
every time I try to forget I’m alone
I’m impersonating someone else and
Maybe
I die a little knowing you’re not by yourself
but then I remember

I remember that good good lovin
that good lovin

You give me that good good lovin

You give me that good lovin baby

Baby
everytime I try to forget I’m alone
I’m impersonating someone else and
Maybe
I die a little knowing you’re not by yourself
but then I remember

I remember that good good lovin
that good lovin

You give me that good good lovin

Good good lovin
that good lovin

You give me that good good lovin
I need to feel it once again
Can’t focus I’m numb,
You’re here now you’re gone
haven’t slept for days
