Gorillaz, How Far? (Ft. Tony Allen & Skepta)

yeah, wagan brother
time to hustle for the money give the change to your mother change them sheets
you got stains on the corner better look sharp
now your face on the cover like a chameleon, see a change in yout color crabs in the barrel wanna hate on each other so my life gets better, whatever the weather I dance in the rain and I bathe in summer it's the black Corleone in the button'up shirt before we take off you better buckle up first fresher than the President psychedelics got me in my element all negativity, that's irrelevant in belief or ganja leaf I back strap when I wrap the sheets now I feel to go for a drive so I grab my keys shades on, roof down, tryna catch a breeze riddin' round the hood, got the Devil in my ear can you smell like that?

smells like jealously in the air don't know who they're tryna scare looked at the man in the mirror that's the only enemy that I fear a zombie know who to frighten just know I love the action but I move in silence and , right now I am just takin' what's mine till Elizabeth returns to diamonds

yeah, wagan brother
give the change to your mother
better look sharp

who's that pressin' on the buzzer? better chack the camera you don't wanna get stuck up you listen close you can hear death around the corner

yeah, wagan brother
better look sharp
one wrong move and we're all gonna suffer
