Hailee Steinfeld, Back to Life (from Bumblebee)

cause I’m bringing you back to life our love’s enough transcending us through space and time it’s holding up it keeps you and me intertwined what’s a bad dream if you ain;t trying to do it?

what’s a heartbreak if you ain’t crying all through it?
what’s a sunset if you ain’t riding into it?
let’s drive into it

and I know that you’re gone but I swear that you’re here it’s a feeling that won’t disappear and you’re bringing me back to life I was looking for something that I couldn’t find it’s a feeling you give me inside

this feeling’s coming back to life

our memories they’re more than just our history they life me up they flow like electricity

what’s a bad dream if you ain;t trying to do it?
what’s a heartbreak if you ain’t crying all through it?
what’s a sunset if you ain’t riding into it?

and I know that you’re gone but I swear that you’re here
