Barbra Streisand, Don't Lie to Me

why can’t you just tell me the truth?
hard to believe the things you say why can’t you fell the tears I cry today?
cry….
cry today

how do you win if we all lose? you change the fact to justify your lips move but your words get in the way in the way…

kings and queens, crooks and thieves you don’t see the forest fro the trees head and heart, on our knees you can’t see what we all see how do you sleep when the world keeps turning?

all that we built has come undone
how do you sleep when the world is burning? everyone answers to someone

don’t lie to me
don’t lie to me
you lie to me
don’t lie to me
don’t lie to me
you lie to me

you can built towers of bronze and gold you can paint castles in the sky you can use smoke and mirrors old cliché
not today..

how do you sleep when the world keeps turning?
how do you sleep when the world is burning?

don’t lie to me
don’t lie to me
you lie to me
don’t lie to me
don’t lie to me
you lie to me

can’t you see I am crying can’t you see we’re crying where’s the new horizon?

how do we sleep? /3x

how do you sleep when the world keeps turning?
