

Alec Benjamin, Oh My God

looking at the pictures I keep on my shelf cause it's been so long since I've looked like myself burned another candle down

running low on patience running low on fumes I am never gonna make it halfway on the moon but it's too late to turn around
but it's too late to turn around

I am running out of oxygen I'll never be the same again now same again now

oh my god,
I can't remember
who I was just last December
what have I done
how did I get here
what have I done?
oh my god,
look in the mirror
I was young, nothing to fear once
what I have done?
how did I get here?
what have i done

maybe I was foolish
I guess I was naïve I didn't know what io had but I thought I had to leave I wish that I was homeward bound
I wish that I was homeward bound now I am searching for a signal holding out my phone have I gone too far now am I on my own?

I am running out of oxygen
same again now

oh my god,
I can't remember
who I was just last December
what have I done
how did I get here
what have I done?
oh my god,
look in the mirror
what I have done?
how did I get here?
what have i done
