D-Moll, Heaven

life , life was once so lonely heartbreak was the only thing you left for me my life, my life was so empty and love was the furthest furthest thing from me

I got used to starting over's being good, but not good enough I was ready to give up but now you came into my life falling, I'm in heaven, falling I'm in haven, falling straight into your heart falling, i'll catch you while you're falling I hear your heart calling into my arms

falling, I'm in heaven, falling I'm in haven, falling
falling, i'll catch you while you're falling
I hear your heart calling into my arms now I have you here beside me caressing my bidy I need nothing more, nothing more there's no place I'd rather be as the candle glow flees but with you right here

I got used to feeling naked walking blind with hanging heart I was ready to give up, but now you came into my life

falling, I'm in heaven, falling I'm in haven, falling
straight into your heart
falling, i'll catch you while you're falling
I hear your heart calling into my arms
falling, I'm in heaven, falling
I'm in haven, falling
straight into your heart
falling, i'll catch you while you're falling
I hear your heart calling into my arms
