Jake Bugg, Love, Hope and Misery

Crying for the one who doesn’t love you
All you feel is the pain
You don’t know why he doesn’t want you
He hasn’t called for days

So dry those eyes and don’t be afraid
Cause the rhythm of lovers ain't the same
No, you don’t, no it don’t come easy
Come easy

They say it comes with tears, love, hope and misery
I’m the first to have gone and tell me if I’m wrong
I hope that I am and you don’t hate me
Don’t be mad, I'm just a man
And I know /6x
That you must hate me

Holding back the reasons not to love you
Try to find the way
But when you’re feeling down and lonely
It makes it hard to save

So dry those eyes and don’t be afraid
Cause the rhythm of lovers ain't the same
No, you don’t, no it don’t come easy
Come easy

They say it comes with tears, love, hope and misery
I’m the first to have gone and tell me if I’m wrong
I hope that I am and you don’t hate me
Don’t be mad, I'm just a man
And I know /6x
That you must hate me

As I think about the only way that you know to love
No, this feeling can’t be right, if it don’t mean much
No, this feeling ain't right, if it don't mean much
I can't be here for you
No, I can't live a lie, woman, that you must know
And this feeling can't be right, if it moves so slow
No, this feeling ain't right, if it moves so slow
I can't be here with you

They say it comes with tears, love, hope and misery
I’m the first to have gone and tell me if I’m wrong
I hope that I am and you don’t hate me
Don’t be mad, I'm just a man
And I know /6x
That you must hate me
