Derdian, Resurgence

It’s incredible that it happened again
What I see reflected here can’t be true, it’s really him…
Back from the afterlife. I will have to face
What my ancestors have handed down for generations…
Mine is the burden…

The King’s adviser:
The army arranged itself motionless in the sky
Shining in front of us
We on alert in the headquarter
The King asked for the screen to see the battlefield
To look in the evil's face, to see the worst abomination

So we were shown the image
Of a beast trapped in rage...

Facing this new fire
Flying always higher
Than this new threat
We can't accept an
Endless bloody resurgence
But truth can't be hide
There's nothing to do but fight

Troghlor was there real and terrifying
Rolling his purple eyes
Long, dirty hair, we are so damn scared
After a short speech between two enemies
The Battle began without Hesitation, without delay

Astar arrays its fleet
There's not a soul in the streets
