Jonas Blue, HRVY, Younger

someday, we’ll be a million miles away walking up on Monday morning wishing it was Saturday you’re screaming out, no warning this will be a distant memory I can hear the future calling let it wait

cause you know that we got time to get ourselves together we got time for us so baby let’s waste our time like we’ll be young forever stay forever young

when we were 17
feels like just yesterday
living a lucid dream
those years just fall away only day we’ll be 33
before we’re old and grey let’s still 17
like yesterday

let’s stay younger together
let’s stay younger together
let’s stay younger together
let’s stay younger together

always , you’ll always be my fantasy even when we’re grown up know that I’ll ;love you better than today one day we’ll be dancing slowly but for now we’ll make it rin I can see the future calling, let it wait

living a lucid dream
let’s still 17
like yesterday

let’s stay younger together
let’s stay younger together
let’s stay younger together
