Jonas Blue, We Could Go Back (ft. Moelogo)

Shoulda coulda woulda but it’s too late shouldn’t catch feelings on a first date 0 to 100
no first base ended up with coffee back at your place every night is keeping me awake

I keep thinking about all the things
I would change

if we could go back
tell me would you even would you still believe in
and if we turn back
would you still believe in me?

turn the wheel
but it’s bio race never had a time to find our own pace trying to drive feelings that won’t go away sleep in the bed on my own mistakes

I keep thinking about all the things

would you still believe in me?

I know time waits for no man I’m standing here now with no plans
let’s go baby
go, go, baby!

if we could come back
would you still believe in me?
tell me would you still believe in me? tell me would you still believe?
