Editors, Barricades

how long could you wait for someone you love? just looking for the tunnels of light coming down form above
I was waiting by the phone
the moment you call
the moment you gave
just tell me all your secrets and lies, your barricades

when it gets dark, …. youth holding me back from falling through tunnels of light emitted by you
the moment you gave

don’t run away
don’t run away
don’t run away
just barricade now
don’t run away
don’t run away
don’t run away
just barricade now

a memory of you plucked from the pool just tell me have I met you before?
did we play the fool?
serenade me while I sleep
…the walls
keep us out of sight
my memory is playing tricks and games the madness you loved, the tunnels of lights

don’t run away
don’t run away
don’t run away
just barricade now
don’t run away
don’t run away
don’t run away
just barricade now
don’t run away
don’t run away
don’t run away
just barricade now
don’t run away
don’t run away
just barricade now
