Foals, Into The Surf

if you come again
i'll be sure to send the tide to come meet you and if I come again
please be sure to send the moon to come meet me

I'll eat up all your pain take in all the blame be that someone to complain I'll be like water, when you rise plant a jasmine in the night when I return there's a moon pool on fire into the surf, again

there's a moon pool in the bloom

and if I come again

there's a lighthouse in the dark a garden in the past under bruisings of a night sky be like water, when I rise

into the surf, again
there's a moon pool in the bloom

there's a serpent on the beach I am out of reach place a garland in the sea for me when the tides comes rolling in please be sure to send a bloom moon for me if I don't make it home wrap the jasmine round my bones a garland in the sea for me a blood moon for me
