Aquilo, Good Girl

I breathe irresponsibly
Inhale into my bloodstream
This space I can't seem to fill
Hole up, begging but I'm still lost in
The margin there's a line
Can't turn the pages
I've tried, hopeless
If you only see
I'm here to focus on the light
A side you care?
In the truth I don't compare
'Cause
You're so around me, my beat subconsciously
But I don't feel like I'm still on my own

'Cause I've been looking for a good girl I'm looking for a good girl Tell me if you think you found Maybe there's a chance you'll let me know 'Cause I've been looking for a good girl I'm looking for a good girl Tell me if you think you found Can I get a sign before you go?

I broke the JD here tonight But you send a message to my spine One look, I can't turn away And I'm hooked, tell me what you say Lost in your movement and your lies I just put you through my side Hopeless if you never see I'm here to focus on the light A side you care? In the truth I don't compare You're so around me, my beat subconsciously But I don't feel like I'm still on my own 'Cause I've been looking for a good girl I'm looking for a good girl Tell me if you think you found Maybe there's a chance you'll let me know 'Cause I've been looking for a good girl I'm looking for a good girl Tell me if you think could I? Can I get a sign before you go? Make it obvious to me Make it obvious to see Make it obvious to me Make it obvious to see

Tell me if you think you found...
'Cause I've been looking for a good girl
I'm looking for a good girl
Tell me if you think you found
Maybe there's a chance you'll let me know
'Cause I've been looking for a good girl
I'm looking for a good girl
Tell me if you think could I?
Can I get a sign before you go?
