James TW, Say Love

folding down the seats in the back of my car got nowhere to be cause the world don’t know where we are 3am and you’re in my arms all the drinks still waring off you look to me like I said something wrong mmh?

cause I open my mouth now, we’re both just sat in silence frozen by 3 little words and there was something behind those eyes that she was hiding she said, I don’t want this to hurt just don’t say love
say love
say love, no!
I’ve heard that world misused
a thousand times before I know that we don’t have to dive in cause we got all of the time in the world to say love
say love
say love

heart disappeared
from a sleeve
I should’ve known it’s still way too early to see where this could go she said I’m not tryna be difficult and I just never felt this before I;m scared we might lose it all

enclosed in that moment I found a silver lining all I’ve been looking for cause there was something behind those eyes
she said, it’s nothing personal
say love, no!
say love

I’m not gonna run away I’m not the type to leave you on your own on your won all on your I finally get that you’re tryna say

say love
say love
