Lacey Sturm, I Died

That's not me anymore

Right now come and take over
Freely giving you these doors
Skeleton key unlock ambitions to partner with liars
Destroy soul ties
Drowning out the history
No more panic in the sea
I'm still
Somehow I'm breathing
This ocean's deceiving no more

Responsibility lands squarely on my shoulders
And in eternity these choices last forever
But as your blood intervenes
She's dying while you hold her
She only looks like me
But that's not me
Oh call me by my new name

Right now choose your own adventure
You can't blame anyone else
Future splitting like neurons
And death is lie in yourself
Breaking habits is a mystery
Cancer healing by itself
Miracles follow her fragrance
Her voice is so pregnant with help

Responsibility lands squarely on my shoulders
And in eternity these choices last forever
But as your blood intervenes
She's dying while you hold her
She only looks like me
But that's not me
Oh call me by my new name

The same Spirit that rose Christ from the dead
Gives life to my mortal body
The same Spirit that rose Christ from the dead
Gives life to my mortal body
The same Spirit that rose Christ from the dead
Gives life to my mortal body
The same Spirit that rose Christ from the dead
Gives life to my mortal body

Responsibility lands squarely on my shoulders
And in eternity these choices last forever
But as your blood intervenes
She's dying while you hold her
She only looks like me
But that's not me
Oh call me by my new name

He gave me a new name
He gave me a new name
