Lanberry, How Do You Like Me Now

Look in the mirror
just pull the trigger
that’s what you want to say But I sing my heart out You’ll never beat that It takes the pain away

I think I had enough
Of playing it safe
this time I’m gonna do whatever it takes
So how do you like me
How do you like me
I think I had enough
Of playing it safe
this time I’m gonna do whatever it takes
So how do you like me
How do you like me

how do you like me now
tell me how do you see me I just wish you could see me

life’s getting’ bigger
just pull the trigger
shoot me with all your words

I think I had enough
Of playing it safe
this time I’m gonna do whatever it takes
So how do you like me
How do you like me

you wanna put labels on me you just think you can own me unleash me
you think you can control me
unleash me
