Martin Garrix, Home (feat. Bonn)

i was hiding form the pain but now I am tired of running felt like the gods forgot my name

in my head
I didn’t know where I was looking for we got so close to something beautiful and now I am never gonna let you go
you go you go

home , take me home
back to my roots
it’s been so long
hey, I found way
back to the streets where they know my name you know I’ve been all around, all around but you were always on my mind
on my mind
home, take me home
back to my roots
it’s been so long

home, take me home
back to my roots
it’s been so long

I didn’t know what u was looking for
we got so close to something beautiful and now I’m never gonna let you go
you go, you go

you go you go

back to my roots
it’s been so long
hey, I found way
on my mind
home, take me home
back to my roots

been so long
been so long
been so long
