Mustard, Nick Jonas, Anywhere what’s better than the time being dark skies never scare me fallin I’ll be right behind ya it’s still me like the very first time something had to be this hard something that I really want you something had to be so far something that I really wanted you could be anywhere right now I taint hard to see

I’ll be your light
if you say the words for me
you could be anywhere right now it’s aint hard to see I’ll be your light

because I’ve loved you it’s not important any longer where are we even fighting over

I taint hard to see
I’ll be your light
you could be anywhere right now it’s aint hard to see

I don’t know what to do it you’re not right besiede me I had to move byrt, baby you know where to find me
