Norah Jones, Paradise

Take me back to paradise
I could make the sacrifice
I'm trying to save you
What else is there left to learn
Watching all these fires burn
I'm waiting it's true
I watch you fell
I try to stop
Waiting for the pain to drop
I know I've got to let you go again
Although I never wanted this to end
I know It's time to let you go.
Find a place to calm your mind
I'll take yours and you take mine
I'm begging you please
Conversations pleading
Hearts are always beating
I'm down on my knees
I watch you fell
I try to stop
Waiting for the pain to drop
I know I've got to let you go again
Although I never wanted this to end
I know It's time to let you go
I watch you fell
I try to stop
Waiting for the pain to drop
I know I've got to let you go again
Although I never wanted this to end
I know It's time to let you go.
