R3HAB & Clara Mae & Frank Walker, More Than

said it over in my mind how do you say that it’s for the last time thinking maybe I should til the morning but how do you say that it’s over for the last time we shattered the same riends and apartment but tlately we don’t talk only about other’s problems but never mention ours I barely recognize those portraits hangin’ on the walls tell me do you think we lost in cause they don’t look likeus?

feels like we wait for a boigger mistake cause all the small ones are already made and I hate how it’s so hard to say just give me a reason to stay cause I want something more then ok I need something more than ok

I need something more than ok ok ok ok
I need something more than ok
I need something more than ok
I need something more than ok
