Rag'n'Bone Man, Crossfire

Lights out /2x
On every street
It’s liek God turned to the switch on us
Shout out /2x
For someone to hear
There’s nobody left but the two of us

Hold tight /2x
To memories
Oh my it’s so hard to let it go
For someone to hear
There’s nobody left but the two of us

Lord, what if we could say that we made it
Nothing here was broken or wasted
We were all caught in the crossfire
And everyone was stood in the way
They’re just waiting for a change
They’re just waiting for a change

Dark clouds, dark clouds on every sky
We run fast towards the light
You said, you said that you could hear people laughing
Just like a happy life
All those years we spent alone
There must be life after tragedy
Shout Out, shout out
For someone to hear
And there’s nothing left but the memory

Lord, what if we could say that we made it
Nothing here was broken or wasted
We were all caught in the crossfire
And everyone was stood in the way
They’re just waiting for a change
They’re just waiting for a change
