Rage, Cold Desire

You turn me on, you make me live, you are like frost and fever
You shake me all, my rise and fall, bad medicine, fake healer
It’s what I try, it all must die, your poisoned sting in my heart
And what I fear is always near, with you I’m lost from the start

Fire in my eyes, I believe your lies
You’re my hate, my cold desire
My reducing flame, I’m the one to blame
Grinding me down to the wire

All that is left inside, hiding from the light
Burning like a cold desire
Fear, drying out all life, haunting in the night
Burning like a cold desire

You follow me, I cannot sleep, my nightmare and deceiver
I try to run but you are there, I am your true believer
This black inside, my evil guide, will eat me like a cancer
To rest my head I must be dead, become a necromancer

Fire in my eyes, I believe your lies
You’re my hate, my cold desire

All that is left inside, hiding from the light
Burning like a cold desire
Fear, drying out all life, haunting in the night
Burning like a cold desire

All that is left inside, hiding from the light
Burning like a cold desire
Fear, drying out all life, haunting in the night
Burning like a cold desire

All that is left inside, hiding from the light
Burning like a cold desire
Fear, drying out all life, haunting in the night
Burning like a cold desire
