Rihanna, Sledgehammer (Star Trek Beyond Sour

I hit a wall
And never felt so lone, so lone
Like a waterfall
My tears dropped to the floor, the floor
They left a swimming-pool of salted crimes, crimes
What could I do to change your mind?
Nothing…

I'm bracing for the pain and I'm letting go
I'm using all my strength to let out of this hole

I hit a wall
I thought that I would hurt myself
I was sire
Your words would leave me unconscious
And on the floor I'd lying cold, lifeless
But I hit a wall,
I hit them all,
Watch the fall
You're just another brick and I'm a sledgehammer /2x

I hit the wall
I prayed that I would make it through, make it through
I can't survive a life that is without you, that is without you
And I will rise up from the ashes now
The sparrow flies with just the crumbs of loving spilled

I'm bracing for the pain and I'm letting go
I'm using all my strength to let out of this hole

I hit a wall
I thought that I would hurt myself
I was sire
Your words would leave me unconscious
And on the floor I'd lying cold, lifeless
But I hit a wall,
I hit them all,
Watch the fall
You're just another brick and I'm a sledgehammer /4x
