Rita Ora, Velvet Rope

the love we share
guess we'll never know is it hidden behind that velvet Rope?

while I'm standing alone out in the cold

where did you go do your new friends know that it's all for show?

what did you fool them all in to thinking you're gold did you do as you're told will it ever get old

don't you remember me darling when you lay down to sleep do you still think of me? cos I remember you darling without the sadness in your eyes now yhe champagne's running dry

I heard the you been that living it up living it up where I did go wrong only yesterday you were besides me no I am juz another one
