

C-BooL, Golden Rules (C-BooL & Skytech Remix)

Sometimes you Wander
If you walk the proper way
You looking for advisers
Who have so much to say
They always know
Whet's bad and what is good for you
You stick to your own rules
And try to be so true

I know
What's wrong
And whan can make you really strong
Away
From fools
I know
How to break your golden rules

How to break your golden rules

I know
How to break your golden rules
How to break your rules

Nobody told you
How to rise when others fail
The world explores you
Sometimes throws against the wall
Nobody told you
How to stay away from fools
But i can tell you
Nobody told you
How to rise when others fail
The world explores you
Sometimes throws against the wall
Nobody told you
How to stay away from fools
But i can tell you
How to break your golden rules

How to break your rules
How to break your golden rules
How to break your rules
How to break your golden rules

No matter what you want to say
You can stay real and feel ok
You really don't need special tools
Just try to break your golden rules

I know
What's wrong
And whan can make you really strong
Away
From fools
I know

How to break your golden rules

I know

Nobody told you

How to rise when others fail
Nobody told you
But i can tell you
Nobody told you
Nobody told you
But i can tell you

How to break your rules
