The Weeknd, False Alarm

Bathroom stalls for the powder nose
High heel shoes with the open toes
She's got a good time wrapped in gold for you, for you
All red dress with the devil eyes
So obsessed with the camera lights
You love her, but you can't deny the truth, the truth

She loves everybody
Can't you tell by the signs?
She loves everybody
She gets off all the time
It's a dark philosophy
And it haunts her constantly
It's a false alarm to me
She's a false alarm

False alarm /6x

Six inch long, about three inch wide
Dolla, dolla bill is her only type
You love her but you'll never be the one, the one
Diamonds and the rings are her fantasy
She chase hearts with the Hennessy
You love her, but you'll never be enough, enough

She loves everybody
Can't you tell by the signs?
She loves everybody
She gets off all the time
It's a dark philosophy
And it haunts her constantly
She's a false alarm to me
She's a false alarm

False alarm /6x

She always leaves the man she loves
But the diamonds are forever
She always seems to be alone
But the diamonds make her better

False alarm /6x
