The Weeknd, Nothing Compares

i, been tryin’ to find the words to say if we tried again we’d make the same mistakes asphyxiated

I’ll never make it without my baby
so I fill the void
I know you do the same

nothing compares to the emptiness we both share and nobody cares like you do you ask for me heart but I didn’’t kow where to start but they don’t think of you like I do

I try my ybest not get high again butt I’ve stuck inside this place for days on end intoxicated

I’ll never make it
without my baby
so I fill the void
I know you do the same

nothing compares to the emptiness we both share
and nobody cares like you do
you ask for me heart
but I didn’’t kow where to start
but they don’t think of you like I do

I seen darker days tryna keep my faith
I sin too much to pray for you even when it’s great I still walk away I couldn’t even change for you if you’re the air I need I am dying just to breathe I hope that you’re not dying too tryna keep mmy faith
I sin too much to pray for you

nothing compares to the emptiness we both share
and nobody cares like you do
you ask for me heart but I didn’’t know where to start
but they don’t think of you like I do