

Ciara, Beauty Marks

what a feeling to wake up everyday knowing I am loved by you

I can't believe it what did I do to deserve someone to hold me like you do cuz you take me as I am and I take you as you are whit your hand and weather hands

and the bruises on my heart that make me who I am
that make you who you are baby when you take my hand you show me that my scars are beauty marks

I look in the mirror and I see all my flaws but you see ighjt in all I do now I;m realizing that the ugliness I saw they're all pretty things to you and I don't; have to cover anything I'll share it all I don't have to hide from the truth

now I know what true love means so real it feels like a dream no looking back to the past it was all part of the pain

I feel the love in your hands boy when you touch me like that the way you love every part you show me my scars are beauty marks
