

Eminem, Jet Remix/War

if you had one shot one opportunity to fight for your country will you fight or will you go down with no honor oh his palms are sweaty guns slipped all ready there nervous but on the surface they look calm and ready to drop bombs While looking at the flag the whole land goes so loud everybody open their ears right now to go check it out but clocks run out time up over blow snap back to reality oh there goes everybody they now their whole life is on the line but it don't matter the front line goes to the ground they now they're going so down everybody is screaming now so the better go capture this moment and go kill every man they got
