

Eminem, Street Cred

Everybody's judged by the clothes they wear, the main nightmare is that people will stop and stare and the only care that people have in their minds is that there's all kinds of Calvin Kleines, and pork rinds who can't read behind the lines, seems, all the buttons all the dreams all the people in their teens are to keen on becoming the next best dressed queen.

The only ingredient that you will ever need seems to be such a fucked up one indeed but all it takes is a bunch of fakes to fuckin' make you loose it, booze it 'n' snooze it all the stupid magazines that you shitz have put to bed just makes people wanna fuckin' improve their crappy street cred.
