

FINNEAS, The 90s

Sometimes I think about the 90s
I know that everyone romanticized it
But you could sign me up
For a world without the internet
Hate how easy they can find me
Just by looking up my mom's address
I think about the 90s
When I was not a problem yet

All the time i shouldn've been so happy i was here
Wasting it on worrying
Just made it disappear
Now mmy head feels so heavy
I am left holding up the levee
Feels so foreign
I am already home
