

Hayley Williams , Sudden Desire

wanted him
to kiss me how
whit open mouth
we keep our
distance now
I wanna feel
his hand go down

trying not to think about
what happened last night
outside his house
too far to go back now
just wanna feel his hands go down

a sudden desire

take the elephant
by the hand and told it
cruel to tame
a thing that don't know its strength but better to walk beside it than underneath

my kind companion
softened stone
gentle gant
painful reminder

don't look in my eyes
I feel a sudden desire
don't know if I can deny a sudden desire your fingerprints on my skin a painful reminder
don't look in my eyes

won't fit in
the room big balloon trails me cause I can't let go everywhere I am
it sticks close
like a friend
just like him
just like him
friendly reminder
of a sudden desire

don't know if I can deny a sudden desire

distance now
I wanna feel
