

ILLENIUUM, Wouldn't Change a Thing (feat. Thirty

For a long time now I've had this dream
For the life of me, don't know what it means
Same cold room,
Ceiling falling I start runnin
Seems so clear, then the break up
I reach out, always wake up, cold, alone

Between what's real and becoming ghosts
Blue sky days on the rainy coast
I hate you, I love you,
I want you, don't want to
The words we never got to say
And even though we walked away
We'll always have this song to sing
the truth is, I wouldn't change a thing
I wouldn't change a thing
I wouldn't change a thing

No matter what happens,
She's a fatal attraction to me
I wouldn't change a thing

IN this hotel room and taxi cabs
Keep living out this dream i had
Same cold room
Ceiling falling
I start running
Seems so close
I aan't save us
I reach out
Always wake up
Cold, aolne

Between what's real and becoming ghosts
Blue sky days on the rainy coast
I hate you, I love you,
I want you, don't want to
The words we never got to say
And even though we walked away
We'll always have this song to sing
the truth is, I wouldn't change a thing
I wouldn't change a thing
I wouldn't change a thing
I wouldn't change a thing
I wouldn't change a thing

No matter what happens,
She's a fatal attraction to me
I wouldn't change a thing
No matter what happens,
She's a fatal attraction to me
