James Arthur, Medicine

you're my buletproof vest when it's getting dangerous always make me feel blessed you're my guardian angel you are you are you are you are you are you put your body on mine when you're taking you're the pin in my heaert, it's so heavenly you are you are you are the cure for all my sacars it feel like you could save me now when i am suicidal don;t let me spiral

you always say that you move to LA i'll buy you a plane and i;ll fly you away you are my hell and nowhere escape everything gonna be Gucci Today it feel like you could save me now i know i hurt you i don;t deserve you, no, no

i love the way you look in the balenciaga one sip of you i am hooked i wanna hit it harder no drug can fill this good now i am addicted you
