

Lost Kings, Quit You (ft. Tinashe)

Tell me if i'm right
Cuz i've been thinking
Every time
That you reply
That you've been drinking
Cuz the only time you think of me
Is when the sun is down
Down
Pour another glass
That keep on fucking me around

Woken by the window
And i'm reminded that my phone's
Under my pillow
Containing memories of the places
Where we could have been
If it were up to me

I guess that all your promises
I just were just my fantasies
Now i'm addicted
To the high that you
Put me on
The minute you arrive i'm gone
But i've been mistaken
Or you've just been playing
Still i'm addicted
To the same Coldplay song
And every time you turn it on
God know i can't fix you

But i can quit you
I can quit you
quit you
I can quit you

Remind me once again
Why i'm repeating
That we can't be more then friends
I'm just protecting myself
Form the possibility that
You could turn me down
Thinking that i'm better off
If i don't make a sound

I'm addicted
To the high that you
Put me on
The minute you arrive i'm gone
But i've been mistaken
Or you've just been playing
And every time you turn it on
God know i can't fix you

But i can quit you
quit you

I promise /3x
myslef I don;t see you again i don;t answer your call no matter at all or read any texts that you send

myslef this will come to end
Cuz I can't do this again
