Tony Allen, Go Back (feat. Damon Albarn)

When you see the same reflections of the city lights but you're far away at sea whit all the satellites and the runaways what am I gonna do with you if you go back you're a run away what am I gonna do with you if you go back you're a run away and when the harbor masters comes o switch of the lights and the waiting rooms are empty of everyone does anyone what am I gonna do with you if you go back does anyone what am I gonna do with you if you go back does anyone see you left out on the rocks does anyone see you gotta go back when the only way home is a southern star and the backside view of you is Saturday and anyway what am I gonna do with you if you go back and anyway what am I gonna do with you if you go back
